WHY ATTEND?

The bunker market has never been more complex. Geopolitical instability, sanctions, volatile energy markets, tightening regulation, fuel quality disputes, counterparty failures and increasing commercial pressure mean that risk management has become a business-critical function for every organisation operating in marine fuels.

With a headline theme of 'Understanding, Managing and Mitigating Risk Across the Bunker Value Chain', BRRF26 will feature expert keynote presentations, panel discussions and real-world case studies, enabling delegates to gain valuable insight into managing uncertainty, protecting their organisations from emerging threats and making more informed commercial decisions in an increasingly unpredictable marketplace.

The Bunker Risk & Resilience Forum 2026 is a brand-new executive forum created by ship.energy to bring together senior leaders from across the bunker value chain to share intelligence, challenge assumptions and develop practical solutions.
